

The Air Zoo is seeking an experienced Director of Learning Experiences: a person with an inspiring, motivating, “can do” attitude, a passion for positively impacting community through interactive exhibits, and a proven track record of consistently developing experiences that attract and educate diverse audiences, incorporating technology and media in new, interactive, and unexpected ways. This key leadership position will lead all aspects of the Learning Experience function for the Air Zoo, which include directing teams responsible for the exhibit floor experience, the artifact collection, and the education programs. Your creativity and innovation will flourish while you are providing vision for, creating, and implementing the exhibit and education strategies for the Air Zoo; designing and delivering an engaging, educational, and inspirational exhibit floor experience for guests of all ages; ensuring the care, security, and preservation of all artifacts in the Air Zoo collection; and expanding and diversifying the Air Zoo’s partnerships with formal and informal education providers.
